Give God Some of Your Time in 1945

Time goes on and another year has passed. We try to recall how much good we have done and in what way we have used our time in the past year.

Yes, we will all agree that more people have spent time with God in the past year. This, too, includes our loved ones in the Service who are scattered all over the world, of whom many have given some of their time to God, seeking guidance and help through prayer.

Today is ours—tomorrow may never come. We can and will make better use of it in the future. We all understand and know that our time is short and that it will be shortened for the elect's sake.

Romans 13:11:

"And that knowing the time, that now it is high time to awake out of sleep: For now is our salvation nearer than when we believed."

When the end may come and what God has in store for us in 1945 we do not know. It will probably be one of the most outstanding year's in history since Christ, either for better or worse.

Time is a treasure. May we use it to the best of our knowledge and for the betterment of our souls! Bless this new year, dear Lord, with faith, hope, love, and humbleness. Let no hatred or selfishness dwell in our

THE BOOK OF BOOKS

By Rev. Fred Grimm,
Quincy, Illinois

We have heard a great deal in the past few weeks about New Year resolutions. Most of them are broken before much time passes. But there is one that we should all make which would be to our benefit, and that is—to read the Bible more diligently. Why is it such an important book? It is the Word of God. Its theme is Jesus Christ. Let us review a few inter-

TREASURED VERSES

St. Mark 12:29-31

And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, Hear, O Israel; The Lord our God is one Lord:

And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment.

And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these.

esting things about this wonderful book.

We are told that as Sir Walter Scott was lying on his death-bed, he called, "Bring me the Book." "What Book?" asked his son-in-law. "There is but one Book, the Bible," was his reply. Although he was surrounded by 30,000 volumes he recognized the Bible as the Book of books. He knew that all others were the work of man but this one alone the work of God. Yes, it is indeed such. The Apostle Peter tells us in one of his letters that "holy men of old spake as the Spirit gave them utterance." In Paul's letter to Timothy, we read, "All scripture is given by inspiration of God and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness." These and many similar scriptures prove definitely that God is the Author.

No other book, including so-called sacred writings of the great religious systems of the world, contains a single prophecy. For the writers of those religious books to have made a prophecy that never came to pass would have been to brand the whole work a human composition. Therefore, the Bible is the only book that has ever made a prophecy and it is full of them, many of which have been fulfilled to the smallest details, hundreds or thousands of years later. We find that the very place where Jesus was to be born had been prophecied many hundred years before His birth. His crucifixion and resurrection were likewise foretold by the prophets and we all know how certainly this was fulfilled. Hundreds of other examples are found as one reads the Holy Word. Even today we stand and look in wonder as we see many prophecies being fulfilled before our very eyes. As we view the turmoil in which the world finds itself, is it not a fulfillment as never before, of nations rising against nations and kingdoms, etc., as foretold by the Lord Himself?

Science and astronomy have proved the accuracy of the Bible. Astronomers have found that a full twenty-four hour day has been lost from solar time. A certain atheistic astronomer also discovered this fact some time ago. A God fearing co-worker advised him to search the Scriptures for the answer concerning the lost day. He began reading at the beginning of the Bible. As he came to the book of Joshua, Chapter 10:12-14, he found where Joshua had asked God to allow the sun to stand still about a day. Checking with his figures, he found up to that particular time only twenty-three hours and twenty minutes had actually been lost. He then continued to read in order that he might find the forty minutes still missing. Second Kings, Chapter 20: 8-11, gave the answer. King Hezekiah had been told by God through the prophet Isaiah that he should prepare to die. Hezekiah turned to God in prayer for help. In answer to the king's prayer, God informed him he would extend his life 15 years. Hezekiah asked for a sign that he might believe this. God turned the shadow on the sundial back ten degrees. This was the sign. Now ten degrees means exactly forty minutes. With this the astronomer laid down the Bible and exclaimed, "Lord, I believe."

Of most importance, the Bible is the Book of instructions which God has left us to lead and guide us through this war-torn, sorrow filled world to that beautiful home on high where all sorrow and distress shall be taken away. It tells us "we have all sinned and come short of the glory of God," but not without the remedy which is the shed blood of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. If we can but see our lost condition and in true repentance flee to Him, He will forgive our sins and give us a "Peace that passeth all understanding." He is the rock on which we build our house of faith, the rock in which we hide in times of danger from within and without. When we pray, we are talking to God; but when we read the Bible, God is talking to us. The Bible is like a letter from God. Do not our young men, who are far away from home, enjoy letters from their loved ones? Often they read them over and over again. How much more should we appreciate God's letter, the Bible, and read it much! May you be urged again to read this Book, every day, believe it, follow its instructions, and God will give you the Victory.

We of the staff wish everyone of you a happy and prosperous new year. We know not what it has in store, but we can ask God to guide us on the right path. We know that if it is His Will, peace can soon be restored and every soldier and sailor can again be reunited with his loved ones back home. Let every one pray for peace and not live for self alone but for others, and for Him who holds all power in His own hands. Then and only then can we be happy now and through the eternal ages of eternity.

Hymn for the Month

WONDERFUL WORDS OF LIFE

Sing them over again to me, Wonderful words of Life;
 Let me more of their beauty see,
 Wonderful words of Life.
 Words of life and beauty, Teach me
 faith and duty;
 Beautiful words, wonderful words,
 Wonderful words of Life.
 Christ, the blessed One, gives to all,
 Wonderful words of Life;
 Sinner, list to the loving call, Wonderful words of Life.
 All so freely given, Wooing us to Heaven;
 Beautiful words, wonderful words,
 Wonderful words of Life.
 Sweetly echo the gospel call, Wonderful words of Life;
 Offer pardon and peace to all, Wonderful words of Life.
 Jesus, only Savior, Sanctify forever:
 Beautiful words, wonderful words,
 Wonderful words of Life.

hearts. Let each new day fulfill Thy Holy Will. Lead us by the Father's Hand that we may feel Thy nearness at all times, especially our loved ones in the Service and our youth.

A father in our community just received a letter from his son, who is in the Service in Holland, from which I quote:

"We certainly had a wonderful Christmas here in a small town where our camp is located. We decided to have a little Christmas spirit, so gathered up rations, candy, gifts, etc., and invited the whole town. I'll never forget this day! Women and children came and when all were gathered, a priest offered a prayer. It was a beautiful sight to see about 150 children fold their hands and bow their heads. It really was a blessing."

It does inspire us with hope for the future to know that our boys are doing their bit even on enemy territory. May God bless them and help us to make good use of the coming new year.

Henry Grimm, Morton, Ill.

MY RESOLUTION

I won't look back; God knows the fruitless efforts,
 The wasted hours, the sinning, the regrets;
 I leave them all with Him who blots
 the record,
 And mercifully forgives, and then forgets.
 I won't look forward! God sees all the future,
 The road that, short or long, will lead me home,
 And He will face with me its every trial,
 And bear with me the burdens that may come.
 But I'll look up;—into the face of Jesus,
 For there my weary heart can rest,
 my fears are stilled;
 And there is joy and love and light
 for darkness,
 And perfect peace, and every hope fulfilled.

NEWS

Sgt. Ted and Jack Bollier were home on furlough to spend Christmas with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bollier.

We received the first issue of "The Party Line," published by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene M. Bertschi. It should prove very encouraging to the boys in the service receiving such a newsy letter.

We extend congratulations to Lt. Orange W. Maxfield on completing training and receiving the Silver Wings of a pilot. Lt. and Mrs. O. W. Maxfield are spending a precious furlough with their parents.

Rev. Joseph Sauder, minister at Tremont, Illinois passed into that Great Beyond at the age of 78 years. Funeral services were held at Tremont, Illinois, December 22, 1944.

Pvt. Paul Dotterer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dotterer, is now stationed at Camp Barkley, Texas.

T-5 Paul J. Sauder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Sauder of Mansfield, O., is working in a laboratory in a Paris hospital.

A baby boy, Derrell, was born on the 23rd of December to Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Drayer of Bluffton, Ind.

Earl Zimmerman, who is staying in Paulding, Ohio spent Christmas vacation week with his mother.

Elaine Norr has recovered from tonsillitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Ulrich Kipfer and family spent Christmas Day with Ben Kipfers at Bluffton, Indiana.

The Apostolic Christian Sunday School Christmas Program was held Sunday, December 17, 1944. A very good attendance was recorded as parents, relatives and friends of the children came to enjoy an evening of praises sung and spoken by the children and young people.

Prayer by Rev. Joel Souder

Pvt. Elmer Gronau has been reported missing in action. Pvt. Gronau is the husband of Orpha Klopfenstein Gronau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Klopfenstein.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Conrad were pleasantly surprised on the evening of their fortieth wedding anniversary, December 22, 1944, by a group of relatives and friends who called at their home to extend their best wishes.

Misses Marie and Ruth Beery of Rittman, Ohio spent part of the holiday season with Dortha Conrad and Bernice Getz.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Klopfenstein and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gerber spend the week end of Dec. 10th with relatives and friends at Gridley, Morton, and Goodfield, Ill.

Miss Sylvia Steiner, who is teaching near Tremont, Ill., spent an enjoyable Christmas vacation with her family.

Funeral services were held at Latty, Ohio for Mrs. Paul Gerber. It was largely attended by relatives and friends.

Cpl. Ralph Levy has returned home for a much deserved furlough. Ralph has been overseas thirty-two months in the South Pacific area. We wish him a pleasant rest.

We are glad to welcome home Wayne Lantz. Wayne injured his feet and legs during training and received a medical discharge; but we are glad to have him back as we feel sure after a good rest, he will be back in civilian work with that old pep.

We are sorry to announce Lt. Richard Klopfenstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Klopfenstein of Grabill, Ind., has been listed as missing in action. We still hold high hopes for Richard's return.

Sunday School Class attendance of Sunday, Dec. 31 was bolstered by Lt. Gaylord Widner and Lt. and Mrs. Orange W. Maxfield. Mrs. Maxfield was the former Helen Klopfenstein. Lt. Gaylord Widner is stationed at Baer Field at present and has visited us for the last three Sundays.

Cpl. Henry Kipfer writes that he has visited the grave of Sgt. Eugene Bahr somewhere in England. Henry says he was glad to see how nice the graves and cemetery were kept.

The engagement of Sgt. Clem Wieland of Bay City, Michigan and Elizabeth Schlatter of Latty, Ohio, was announced on Sunday, Dec. 24, at Latty, Ohio.

Science and Religion

Editor's Note: The following is an excerpt from Brother Froehlich's writings in which he quotes from a book that treats of astronomy.

I have been reading in L. A. Kahler's "Cosmology" and have noted the following selections, which are so important that they may be used in a spiritual way:

I.

"The telescopes have, indeed, been instrumental in permitting us to recognize objects in the sky whose possibilities are beyond the fancies and the imagination of man, unless these are set right by instruction. But such instruction must be accepted as faith by all persons who do not have the necessary instruments and who do not understand the necessary calculations. The great men who have explored the nature of the heavens may, with justice, demand such faith, because they explain and define in a simple and clear manner the intricate phenomena which seems to be inexplicable at first sight. These men are at home in the entire extent of the heavens at any given moment . . . So let us follow them, dear children, and accept the revelations which they give to us about the great house of the universe."

Why shouldn't the Creator of the world demand even a greater faith?

II

"A Prussian clergyman, N. Copernicus, was the first man to prove that the sun and the stars do not move around the earth, but that, on the contrary the earth revolves daily and annually. But the people could not be converted to truth very quickly. An Italian astronomer, Galileo, a hundred years later was sent to prison by the pope of his day when he upheld this truth, because it was said he pretended to be wiser than the Holy Scripture. But no matter, even if the advocates of truth die, or if they are subdued, truth itself never dies and in the end it is unfailingly victorious. All astronomers now think as Copernicus and Galileo thought."

And this principle is still more forcibly true when it is a matter of preaching the Gospel!

III

"In the year 1785 Baron van Zach predicted with absolute certainty that a heavenly body, similar to our earth, must be in existence between the planets Mars and Jupiter. He calculated its orbit and desposited his assertions in sealed letters in London and in Berlin, so that they could be compared with the actual facts when this planet would be discovered. (At a later date the four planets Ceres, Pallas, Juno, and Versta were located in that space.) Just consider the power of human intellect when man, having trained and developed it in scientific knowledge, knows how to use it. Persons without number gaze at the sky without knowing what they see. But this man indicated as a certainty something which neither he nor anybody else had ever seen. Remember what I said about having faith in the teaching of cosmology. And with what a trustful confidence must we, the unlearned people, accept the statements of these men who proceed from maxims and principles which stand the test of time."

And what a great, trustful confidence must we not bring to the word of God, who has made everything!

—S. H. Froehlich.

The Light of God's Word

In the Gospel of St. John we read, "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God." St. John 1:1.

We are now starting a New Year, and most people are wondering what it will bring to them. Many who have lost loved ones in this terrible war may feel that there is little left for them since they shall never see their loved ones on this earth again. Others are living in hope that this year might bring their loved ones home to them. No doubt the world is as full of darkness as it has ever been.

But let us turn to the Word of God, for in it is a solution to every problem of life. We read in St. John 1:4, "In Him was life; and the life was the light of men." Surely all who turn to this light shall see their way in this dark and troubled world. We cannot turn to Christ in person for help but we still have His Word, which was from the beginning of time.

In St. John 1:5 we read: "And the light shineth in darkness and the darkness comprehended it not." Today this light is still shining as bright as ever, but we must go to the Word to see it. We know that those who are blind do not know the difference between light and darkness, but if their eyes are opened then they can see the light. Therefore, first we must have our spiritual eyes opened by the word in order to see the light in this dark and troublesome time.

All men are looking and hoping for a world of peace and in God's Word we are promised such a world. Only after men have failed and will turn to God and His Word will thus be fulfilled. So in all this sorrow and trouble God is preparing this world for the world of peace which He has promised all who believe on His Word.

We know that God's own Son was the Word made flesh to dwell among men for a season that we might have light to see in darkness.

When Christ was nailed upon the Cross and gave His life for the salvation of all men, those who loved and believed on Him went through one of the darkest hours this world has ever known.

The darkness, however, was turned into light when He arose from the grave and appeared again unto them.

Then let us turn to God's Word in our sorrow and trouble and surely we shall see not only the beginning of a New Year on earth but also the beginning of God's great plan of preparing this world for the reign of peace by His Son, our Saviour.

Ramas J. Schlatter, Grabill, Ind.

God sometimes puts us in the dark to prove to us that He is light.

Salvation is not a new start—it is a new heart.

Letters to the Editor

We received a Christmas Greeting:

"Christmas greetings with every good wish for your happiness throughout the New Year. Many thanks for your paper — from the Sunday School members at the Wm. H. Stricklin home." *We welcome every letter such as this. Thanks a lot.

From the Philippine Islands, we hear from Cpl. Henry Blunier: "Friendly Christmas Greetings.

May the friendliness of Christmas, Making everyone feel grand, Keep on spreading, till it reaches

Every corner of the land—

May it find you in good spirits—

Feeling happy through and through

And remain throughout the New Year,

Bringing added joy to you!

Merry Christmas to all the Silver Lining Staff.

Sincerely,

"... The Silver Lining is an excellent example of co-operation and work well done. It is enjoyed and appreciated by all who read it. Keep up the good work!

From Richard Klopfenstein, we hear: "Now aren't you surprised! How are you getting along? As for me — I am well and as for morale — good. On the way over I read in a book the enclosed poem and since I promised your mother another poem which I lost, I'll try and replace it with this. I really like this poem because I believe it true, and as if I would have written it as I felt it.

England—the land that didn't exist for me up till now, only in geography and history books. She exists all right! The people are more reserved than we Americans. I like to hear them talk. I was to town the other night and there were quite a few young boys on the street. Some asked if I had any American coins, which I didn't. Most of the fellows that did gave them the coins. With all the troops that have passed through they must be making enough spending money! They often receive coins for guide service. You know how that would be. Certain places you would like to find and in the semi-darkness it would be almost impossible. I sure would like to run into Louis Getz! Do you know where he is here in England? Received the Silver Lining the other day. I surely do enjoy it. I asked Mother to send or call my new addresses when they come. Write if you find time. "Wherefore He is able also to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by Him, seeing He ever liveth to make intercession for them.' Heb. 7:25."

"... I have been receiving the Silver Lining quite regularly. The poems and songs are all enjoyed very much, as are the writings of S. H. Froehlich. In fact I enjoy every bit of the Paper and believe that everyone of those receiving it appreciate your kindness. I feel that it brings us closer to our friends and the church. To say thank you is but a small way of expressing my feelings.

I have been in Belgium for some time now, and like the people and country real well. Things here seem much more modern than in England, such as stores and homes. The people themselves are dressed neat and clean. They are short of food and coal. Many of them look thin. It seems like they have had quite a bit of fruit, so we buy grapes, apples, and pears from them. I think they have plenty of vegetables too. We are not to buy any food other than fruit, so they will not be shorted of any themselves more than they are already.

... My sincere Thanks and Best Wishes to you, John Schuck."

THE BIBLE, THE GREATEST BOOK

It is very evident why the Bible is the greatest book. The needs of the human soul, the highest gift of God to man, are met through it as it brings to man the Word of God. Man must first learn to know himself not as he thinks he is, but as he really is. In this self-revelation there is no more powerful and truer guide than the Bible. "For the Word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart." We learn thus to see ourselves as sinners who need to be freed from the bondage of sin. But then there comes the delivering and fructifying power of the Word, which brings to us the Saviour Christ. "For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater: so shall my Word be that goeth forth out of my mouth; it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereunto I send it." After such preparation, the Word, like a seed, unfolds in our souls and brings life to us, for it is the very life of God, and as gospel it is the power to God unto salvation. No other book under the heavens and upon the earth can do what the Bible does when we allow the Word of God which fills it to free us from sin and to awaken us in eternal life through the Spirit of God, whose instrument is the Word.

"Prayer is the key in the hand of faith to unlock Heaven's storehouse."

Prayer is indeed a privilege. It is a mighty weapon in the hand of faith, to anchor our sons who left our fire-sides, and are separated by thousands of miles. We can meet around the Mercy Seat. Our silent prayers mingle with those of our dear ones as they rise before the Throne of Grace. "Oh, God, help me" is the cry of thousands in these trying days. God does hear the faintest cry. Every sincere prayer anchors the individual to the throne of God. Prayer brings us into close relationship with God, making it possible to receive light and strength, and sustains us in the dark hour. In earnest prayer we can feel His hand of love upon us.

Herman Sauder, Mansfield, Ohio.

MY TASK

I do not ask for mighty words
To leave the crowd impressed,
But grant my life may ring so true
My neighbor shall be blessed.

I do not ask for influence
To sway the multitude;
Give me a "word in season" for
The soul in solitude.

I do not ask to win the great—
God grant they may be saved—
Give me the broken sinner, Lord,
By Satan long enslaved.

Though words of wisdom and of power
Rise easily to some,
Give me a simple message, Lord,
That bids the sinner come.

A group of boys and girls maybe
My God appointed task;
Help me to lead each one to Thee—
What greater could I ask?

I ask no place of prominence
Where all the world can see,
But in some needy corner, Lord,
There let me work for Thee.

No task too great, no task too small,
Sufficient is Thy grace;
The darkened heart, my mission field,
My light, the Saviour's face.
Sent to Silver Lining by Richard Klopfenstein.

THOUGHT GEMS

Christianity is not a new leaf—it is a new life.

Difficulties are God's errands; and when we are sent upon them we should esteem it a proof of God's confidence as a compliment from Him.
